FOUR LTTE activists who were kept in a high security prison in Velore in Tamil Nadu were arrested by the Police when they made a bold attempt to escape after digging an underground tunnel, reports from Tamil Nadu said.

The four aged between 17 and 27 had dug a three and half foot deep and two and half feet wide tunnel from within the high security prison and were on the verge of the outer perimeter when jail guards responding to a peculiar noise from within investigated.

Police who were called took the four youths into custody and are now interrogating them. The reports did not say as to what offence they, were jailed.
