Twenty-five more hardcore LTTEers arrested in Colombo

Twenty-five more military wing cadres of the LTTE have been arrested in Colombo by the police and the security forces during the last few days.

A senior police official told Lankapuvath (Thursday) that a total of 85 LTTE military wing terrorists including several members of its hit squad were now being detained and were under interrogation.

He said that 125 peripheral LTTE cadres had also been arrested during heightened combined cordon and search operations by the police and the security forces in Colombo.

A maximum security operation is now on in Colombo and round the clock security checks are being made through cordon and search operations and the checking of vehicles.

He also called for continued public vigilance in the detection and arrest of terrorists. (Lankapuvath)
